

Baby Guerilla

Feature Artist

Baby Guerilla's mission is to liberate art from just the gallery or the picture frame and make it accessible to everyone. She loves the idea of setting art free, setting our souls free to dream and imagine and go floating across a wall. She seeks to create worlds, meaning out of mayhem and dreams from despair.

After graduating from VCA she was all set for life as a painter. Street art began as a hobby on the side that seemed to take on a life of its own then grew and grew. Now she sees the two media as complimentary. The possibilities for her drawings are infinite.

She sees drawing on walls as a beautiful challenge . . . the challenge of space and constraints. Defying gravity, dancing with gravity. The love affair continues . . .