

Puppet Master

Somehow I am chased away
And I slowly lose faith in me
Somehow I'm a waste today
No one tells me who to be

The script erased my lines
I don't know how to shine
But the stage was my throne
How do I run the show alone

Drowned in my tangled strings
Like I'm tied to my demise
And all that this illusion brings
I've become what I despise
Can't find what I lost long ago
Which puppet master runs the show
Now how do I run the show alone
How do I run the show alone

Sometime soon I should break free
And I wish for that loose wire
Sometimes I feel that fire in me
No one knows what I desire

The script erased my lines
I don't know how to shine
But the stage was my throne
How do I run the show alone

Drowned in my tangled strings
Like I'm tied to my demise
And all that this illusion brings
I've become what I despise
Can't find what I lost long ago
Which puppet master runs the show
Now how do I run the show alone
How do I run the show alone

I'm scratched and desecrated
Lost in a blink of an eye
Attached and manipulated
Caught in the chaos of life
I'm hurt that I have to admit
Don't know how to say goodbye
Why am I no longer passionate
And why don't I even try

Drowned in my tangled strings
Like I'm tied to my demise
And all that this illusion brings
I've become what I despise
Can't find what I lost long ago
Which puppet master runs the show
Now how do I run the show alone
How do I run the show alone
