

MICHELLE AQUILINA

LOVED & LOST

You were 18 and a stranger
You were destined for big things

I once told you I was proud of you
Did you hear me?

I told you I missed you
You laughed

Your smile was contagious
Did you notice?

People looked up to you
Did you see them?

You were more admired than you ever knew
You were never modest

You loved everyone that was loyal to you
Their love for you is eternal

You were so down to earth
I wish you'd come back to it

Two years later
You were never meant to be gone

We are all so proud
Left with the voice of an angel

Now all we can do is miss you
No one is laughing

We can manage a smile
In remembrance of the best of times

All we can hope
Is that you are looking down on us

And you may just see
How loved you really are

As you live on
We will continue your dream

And we will meet again
In a place that is beyond us.
